

RMLL Junior Teams Pre-Season Practices for Players 18 and Younger REVISED: April 9, 2021

Effective April 8, 2021 Alberta Reverted to Step One of the Government of Alberta's "A Path Forward"

On April 6, 2021, the Alberta Government announced Alberta was reverting to Step One of the Government of Alberta's "A Path Forward" as of midnight on April 7, 2021. In Step One, youth (18 and under) can participate in limited team sport activities, subject to certain mandatory restrictions outlined by the Government of Alberta on the "A Path Forward" webpage. However, after much confusion, on April 9, 2021 it has been confirmed, if an arena allows, Step One will still allow two groups of 10 on the same playing surface at one time if there is no crossover between the two groups during the session. Therefore, all other original protocols stated in the RMLL March 2, 2021 document remain in effect.

For RMLL Junior teams, the inclusion of youth limited team sport activities in Step One means a Junior team can hold pre-season practices under social distancing and other related protocols for their players born in 2003 and 2004 as well as any of their players born in 2002 who have not yet turned 19 and will not turn 19 throughout the duration of the pre-season practice sessions under the following AHS, ALA and RMLL rules and guidelines.
